Exceptional service and rewards since 1938

January 2019

Account opening date

After the earlier than usual opening date in December things will return to normal for the rest of the year. The account opening date for the rest of the year will be the 16th of every month irrespective of the day of the week.

Increased purchase limit

Just a friendly reminder that your purchase limit(s) may only be increased with your permission. So unless you've given us permission for an automatic annual limit increase your approved limit(s) will not keep up with the increase in the asking price of goods and services.

Mail of monthly account statements

To our members that still receive (supposed to?) their monthly statements via the Post Office, we apologise. As mentioned previously, we have no control over their service delivery. We have a sneaky suspicion that some Post Office clients receive preferential treatment while the others just have to wait their turn. If our assumption is incorrect, the Post Office is more than welcome to contact us and explain why the delivery of an account can take months (if delivered at all).

We do offer alternatives with e-mailing being the most popular. We'll shortly be able to also MMS your monthly account statement. Please consider the alternatives to ensure that you receive your account without any effort and on-time.

Card transactions and suppliers

It has come to our attention that at some suppliers a client has to complete his/her own card transaction, by swiping their card, etc. Our card type option is "credit". If during the completion of the transaction you're unable, for whatever reason, to choose budget, please contact us afterwards and we'll move the transaction to your budget facility (if applicable).

Mathematics

Are any of your children or grandchildren struggling with mathematics (grade 1 – 12)? 'WhatsApp' the problem or an image of the problem to 072 409 7505 and you will receive a response within 48 hours.

Brought to you by mathdou & Koopkrag. In the interest of our children's future.

Say what?

Three blondes were all applying for a position on the Police Force. The detective conducting the interview looked at the three of them and said, "So you all want to be cops, hey?" The blondes all nodded. "To be a detective, you have to be able to detect. You must be able to notice things such as distinguishing features and oddities like scars and so forth." So saying, he stuck a photo in the face of the first blonde and withdrew it after about two seconds. "Now," he said, "did you notice any distinguishing features about this man?" The blonde immediately said, "Yes, I did, he has only one eye!" The detective shook his head and said, "Of course he has only one eye in this picture! It's a profile of his face! You're dismissed!" The first blonde hung her head and walked out of the office. The detective then turned to the second blonde, stuck the photo in her face for two seconds, pulled it back, and said, "What about you? Notice anything unusual or outstanding about this man?" "Yes! He only has one ear!" The detective put his head in his hands and exclaimed, "Didn't you hear what I just told the other lady? This is a profile of the man's face! Of course you can only see one ear! You're excused too!" The second blonde sheepishly walked out of the office. The detective turned his attention to the third and last blonde and said, "This is probably a waste of time, but..." He flashed the photo in her face for a couple of seconds and withdrew it, saying, "All right, did you notice anything distinguishing or unusual about this man?" The blonde said, "I sure did. This man wears contact lenses." The detective frowned, took another look at the picture, and began looking at some of the papers in a file. He looked up at the blonde with a puzzled expression and said, "You're absolutely right! His bio says he wears contacts! How in the world could you tell that by looking at his picture?" The blonde rolled her eyes and said, "Well, Helloooooooooooooo! With only one eye and one ear, ... he certainly can't wear glasses."
